

Wait List Classes

NOTE: In Fall 2008 we are introducing wait-listing for classes in the College of Business. By Spring 2009, we hope to expand wait-listing to additional colleges.

Waitlist Restrictions

Students will be moved from the waitlist into the class if space becomes available, and in the order placed, unless either of the following restrictions apply:

1. There is a time conflict with another registered class. Since potential time conflicts are not checked when you place yourself on a waitlist, you should ensure that waitlisted classes do not conflict with your enrolled schedule.
2. You are already enrolled in another section of the same course. Do not use waitlisting to try to get into another section of a course in which you are already enrolled, as you will not be moved from the wait list if space becomes available. You will need to choose whether to take a chance and place yourself on the waitlist of the full section in the hope that space becomes available or remain enrolled in the section you have already scheduled.

If you cannot be moved from the waitlist, for either of the reasons given above, you will be skipped and the next student considered. You will not be reconsidered until the next time space becomes available in the class.

Check your schedule regularly in your Student Center to monitor your position on a waitlist. If you decide you no longer wish to wait for space to become available, you may drop yourself from a waitlist.
