Digital Marketing focuses on the use of online tools to promote brands and products to the target. Specifically, internet and social media are used as a means to drive sales, promote items, and relay information and services to consumers.

Digital marketers employ marketing tactics in order to increase engagement and visibility of an organization online. This can include creating and establishing a brand image, launching marketing campaigns, constructing a vision, or revamping company websites. Digital properties that marketers work with to promote their products include Google, YouTube, Facebook, Instagram and Snapchat. Additionally to measure and improve their efforts, they look at the data analytics from the different properties.
