How to apply to our positions:

You must apply to EY via EY’s student job board by visiting ey.com/us/students
We recommend applying for the one position for which you are most interested.

Our dynamic application allows candidates to search for open positions real-time, apply when ready, with applications reviewed by service lines and markets on monthly cycles (if not sooner). Our fall cycle close date will be Friday, September 24th; we will continue to accept applications to our available open positions on a monthly basis throughout the year. We encourage applicants to apply as soon as they are ready.

How to apply

At Ernst & Young LLP (EY US) you’ll have more than a job. You’ll have the kind of career that can only come from an inclusive, supportive work environment; coaching and mentorship at every step; a high performing culture; and, of course, exceptional people.

To get started, visit ey.com/us/students to learn more about what you can do here, what it’s like to work here and how to join us. Then, visit EY Event Central to view an up-to-date listing of virtual events, which are open to all students. You’ll be able to register for events relevant to your interests that will help you explore career opportunities in professional services. And, you’ll be able to do so with the flexibility needed to accommodate your busy schedule.

Hiring process for campus candidates

First, we’ll review your résumé and qualifications. Students are selected for an initial interview based on academic background, extracurricular activities and work experience.

During the recruitment process, you’ll be asked to complete an application for employment. You’ll first want to visit the EY Student job board where you’ll find all open job opportunities. Search by keyword (e.g., Audit, Atlanta, Technology Consulting, Intern) to find the position you are most interested in. You can also filter to view opportunities by location, start date time frame or other variables. We recommend applying for the one position for which you are most interested. After applying, you’ll receive an invitation to complete a brief game-based assessment, which is a required part of the application process.

Once you complete the application for employment, and if you are selected, you’ll be invited to participate in a pre-recorded video interview. This is a great way for us to get to know you, understand your career interests and qualifications, and evaluate your potential role at EY US. Top candidates are then invited to participate in a second interview, which for most practices, will take place via live video interviews with our professionals.

A decision is usually made within a few weeks of the final interview. We know that waiting to hear can be tough — so we will let you know as soon as we can. Our recruiters and professionals will stay in touch with you throughout the recruiting process, and we ask that you do the same. We welcome you to ask questions, request additional information or let us know if you have received another offer.

Hiring process summary

- Search and apply for a position on the EY student job board.
- Receive and complete a game-based assessment.
- First interview: pre-recorded video interview (PRVI).
- Final interview: live interviews typically via video.
EY | Building a better working world

EY exists to build a better working world, helping to create long-term value for clients, people and society and build trust in the capital markets.

Enabled by data and technology, diverse EY teams in over 150 countries provide trust through assurance and help clients grow, transform and operate.

Working across assurance, consulting, law, strategy, tax and transactions, EY teams ask better questions to find new answers for the complex issues facing our world today.

EY refers to the global organization, and may refer to one or more, of the member firms of Ernst & Young Global Limited, each of which is a separate legal entity.
