CSUF Economics Seminar Series
Fall 2018

Paulina Oliva, University of Southern California
Friday, Sep. 7, 2:15-3:30PM in SG MH 1113
Paulina Oliva specializes in the fields of environmental economics and development economics. She will be presenting “The Effect of Pollution on Migration: Evidence from China,” which is joint work with Shuai Chen (Tilburg University) and Peng Zhang (University of Cambridge).

Joel David, University of Southern California
Friday, Sep. 14, 1:30-2:45PM in SG MH 1113
Joel David's work focuses on macroeconomics and finance, international economics, and industrial organization. He will be presenting “Risk-Adjusted Capital Allocation and Misallocation,” which is joint work with Lukas Schmid (Duke University) and David Zeke (University of Southern California).

Saki Bigio, University of California Los Angeles
Friday, Sep. 21, 11:30AM -12:45PM in SG MH 1113
Saki Bigio's work is at the intersection of financial market liquidity, credit, payment systems, and macroeconomics. He will be presenting "Credit, Money, Interest and Prices" which is joint work with Yuliu Sannikov (Stanford).

Scott Cunningham, Baylor University
Friday, Nov. 2, 3:30-4:45PM in SG MH 1113
Scott Cunningham focuses on the intersection between crime and risky sexual behavior. His recent REStud paper on indoor prostitution received wide media attention. He has also recently published a textbook on causal inference, Causal Inference: The Mixtape, and will be offering a question-and-answer session on teaching causal inference before the seminar.

Please contact nhuntington-klein@fullerton.edu with questions.