CSUF Economics Seminar Series
Fall 2019

Emily Nix, University of Southern California
Friday, Sep. 13, 1:00-2:15PM in SG MH 1303
Emily Nix's interests include labor economics and applied microeconomics. Her current research focuses on child development and human capital formation. Some of her recent work includes studies on the child penalty, learning spillovers, and the perception of race.

Gabriele Camera, Chapman University
Friday, Sep. 27, 1:30-2:45PM in SG MH 1303
Gabriele Camera is Professor of Economics and Finance. His research spans several areas, including economic theory, experimental economics, industrial organization, labor economics, macroeconomics and monetary economics. His current research focuses on studying the role of institutions in supporting cooperation in society.

Carly Urban, Montana State University
Friday, October 11, 11:30AM -12:45PM in SG MH 1303
Dr. Urban is Associate Professor of Economics and a Research Fellow at the Institute for the Study of Labor (IZA). She is also a Faculty Affiliate of the Center for Financial Security at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Her work focuses on public economics, political economy, and applied microeconomics, with a field on financial literacy and security.

Mireille Jacobson, University of Southern California
Friday, Nov. 15, 2:30-3:45PM in SG MH 1303
Mireille Jacobson, PhD, is an applied micro-economist with a diverse portfolio of research united by an interest in understanding how health care policies affect well-being. Much of her work focuses on the supply-side of health care markets, analyzing the effects of direct supply changes and reimbursement policies.

Please contact nhuntington-klein@fullerton.edu with questions.