Damon Clark, University of California Irvine
Friday, March 15, 1:30-2:45PM in SG MH 1113
Damon Clark is a Faculty Research Fellow at the NBER and a Research Fellow at IZA. His main research interest is in the economics of education. Other research interests include labor economics, public economics and applied econometrics.

Saki Bigio, University of California Los Angeles
Friday, Apr. 12, 2:00-3:15PM in SG MH 1113
Saki Bigio is a professor at the University of California Los Angeles. His work is at the intersection of financial market liquidity, credit, payment systems, and macroeconomics. Some of his recent work sheds light on the relationship between liquidity and the business cycle.

German Cubas, University of Houston
Friday, April 19, 2:45-4:00PM in SG MH 1113
German Cubas is a professor at the University of Houston. His main research interests are in Macroeconomics and Economic Growth and Development. Much of his recent work focuses on the macroeconomic analysis of the labor market in regards to issues like the risk premium, female labor supply, and economic development.

Please contact nhuntington-klein@fullerton.edu with questions.