TABLE OF CONTENTS

WELCOME!

Congratulations on your admission to CSUF! We are happy you are here and excited to help you get started in your first semester.

Your team at the Business Advising Center has put this packet together with you in mind. Please read through for guidance in building your first semester schedule, registration tips, and other campus resources that you are encouraged to utilize during your time at CSUF.

We hope this packet will help you as you prepare for your first semester!

First Year General Education (GE) Advising

You need to complete your First Year General Education Advising Module before you may register for Fall 2022. If you have not yet completed this step, you can access the First Year GE Advising Module instructions.

You should plan to complete the GE Advising Module before you attend Orientation or register for your first semester.

Mathematics and English Placements

You will receive an email to your CSUF student email from the Business Advising Center prior to your registration date. In that email, you will be informed of how to find your English (GE Area A.2) and Mathematics (GE Area B.4) placements and a guideline of what math and English course you should register for in fall 2022. You can expect this email from businessadvising@fullerton.edu. These are important courses that you need to prioritize for the fall semester.

ALEKS Information

If applicable, Business Administration and Economics majors can complete the ALEKS Assessment for calculus readiness. International Business students are not required to complete the ALEKS modules. If you received an email regarding the ALEKS assessment, you should complete it to determine which math course you can register for in your first semester. You must start ALEKS at least a week before registration and complete it at least 48 business hours before registering. Fall registration begins June 23, 2022.

You may access the ALEKS Modules by searching for "ALEKS" in your CSUF Student Portal.

Academic Roadmaps for Your First Year

Academic Roadmap

We have created Academic Roadmaps for you. Academic roadmaps help you to select the appropriate courses to take each semester to graduate in four years.

On pages 6-8, you will find a one year pre-made roadmap for each of the three majors we offer in the College of Business. Scroll to the major you wish to pursue and find your recommended course schedule for your first semester at CSUF. You will also see a recommended course schedule for your second semester at CSUF to plan ahead.

Course Selection Tips

Read these tips and reminders before you utilize these roadmaps to create your first semester schedule:

- Find your Mathematics and English Placement information first. Refer to page 4 of this packet for more information.
- Ideally, you should register for GE Area A.2 (ENGL 101) OR GE Area A.1 in your first semester. You are not able to register for both GE Area A.2 (ENGL 101) AND GE Area A.1 in your first semester.
- Ideally, you should register for a Math course in your first semester. See the Mathematics Placement information on page 4.
- You must take GE Area A.1 (Oral Communication), GE Area A.2 (Written Communication), and GE Area B.4 (Mathematics) before the start of year 2.
- 12-15 units in the fall 2022 semester is considered full-time for incoming freshmen. You are encouraged to register for a minimum of 12 units in fall 2022.
- If courses in your first semester roadmap are full when you are registering for fall 2022 courses, you may instead look in the following GE Areas for additional course options for fall 2022. You can refer to your Titan Degree Audit (TDA) for your list of course options in these GE Areas:
    - GE Area A.3
    - GE Area B.1
    - University Requirement- American Government (POSC 100)
    - GE Area B.2
    - GE Area D.2
    - GE Area E (100-200 level courses only)

Transfer Coursework and Advanced Placement (AP) Information

Transfer Coursework from a Community College

If you have taken any college-level coursework before starting at CSUF, make sure you have submitted an official transcript from each community college attended to CSUF Office of Admissions so your transfer courses can be added to your Titan Degree Audit (TDA). For now, avoid registering for courses that seem similar to anything you've completed at the community college.

You can see instructions of where to send an official transcript to CSUF's Admissions and Records on their website.

AP and IB Credit

If you have taken any AP or IB exams, make sure you have submitted your AP scores electronically from www.collegeboard.org to CSUF Office of Admissions in order for your Titan Degree Audit (TDA) to be updated.

If you know your final scores, refer to the charts from page 10-12 to see which area(s) of General Education they will fulfill and avoid registering for any requirements that will already be completed. For reference, your catalog year is Fall 2022.

Registration Checklist

Registering for your first semester's courses can be both exciting and stressful. As a college student, you now have autonomy when it comes to your class choices and scheduling.

You are able to begin registering on June 23, 2022, but we recommend for you to start preparing your schedule now by following the steps below:

1. Go to Student Homepage and Find Your Enrollment Date & Time

Viewing Enrollment Appointments

2. Review Current Holds and To-Do List

You must review all of your holds in detail before you begin registering for classes. Some holds are informational like your Math and Written/Comm holds and others may prohibit you from registering for courses.

Student Homepage and Holds Tutorial

3. Learn How To Register for Classes

Review all of the tutorials on how to add, drop, and swap into courses. Note that you will have until the second week of classes to drop a course. Remember! It may be more helpful to SWAP a course instead of DROP.

4. Access and Review Your Titan Degree Audit (TDA)

Your TDA is an incredibly important tool to help you track your overall progress toward graduation. Your TDA will show you all required graduation requirements including General Education (GE), major, and other university unit and GPA requirements.

Your TDA is a living document and will be updated as you complete requirements and earn grades. We've included steps to access your current TDA below. You will want to follow these steps each time you wish to view your current TDA:

Login to your CSUF Student Homepage and click "Titan Degree Audit & Planner" Tile
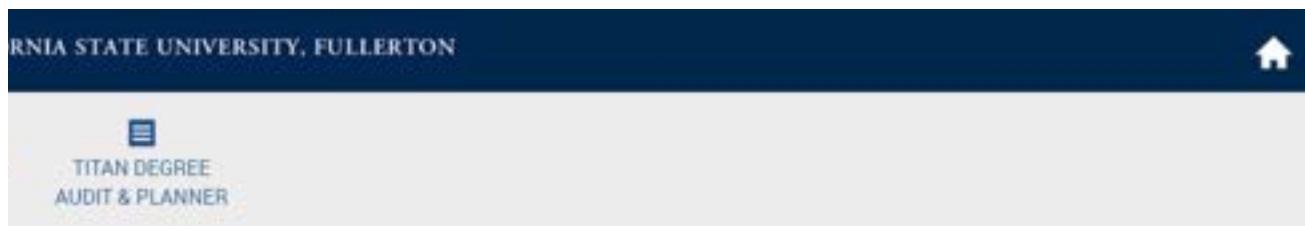

Click the blue "Run Current Programs" button:

Click the "View Audit" link:

Scroll to a GE Area requirement and review course options:

C.1 INTRODUCTION TO ARTS (3 UNITS) [ARTS]

TAKE==>   ART: ART -101, -103(SP04 or after), -104(FA04 or after), -106A(FA04 or after), ART -107A(SP04 or after), -107B(FA04 or after), -201A, -201B, ART -205A(FA04 or after)

DANC: DANC -101

MUS: MUS -100, -101, -102

THTR: THTR -100, -160

This is an example for GE Area C.1. Any course listed under a GE section is a course option for you. Each course is a clickable link. Click to see the class title and a summary of what you will learn in the class. Choose the class that is most interesting to you!

5. Use Your Academic Roadmap

You will now use the First Semester Academic Roadmaps provided on to create your fall 2022 schedule. You will go down the First Semester Academic Roadmap from top to bottom to complete your fall 2022 schedule. Example for Business Administration majors is shown below:

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Category: Registration and Course Selection

When should I register for courses?
You can begin to register for your courses on June 23, 2022. Please refer to your Student Homepage to determine the exact time you can register.

Do all holds in my CSUF Student Center need to be removed before I can register for fall 2022 courses?

Some holds provide information and will not prevent you from registering for fall 2022. "Written Comm Plcmnt Category" and "Math/QR Placement Category" do not need to be removed before you can register for courses.

Are there any classes I need to take in my first semester at CSUF?
All first-year students must take GE Area A.1 (Oral Communication), GE Area A.2 (Written Communication) and GE Area B.4 (Mathematics) before start of year 2. For Fall 2022, you will ideally register for ENGL 101 (GE Area A.2) and your Mathematics placement course (GE Area B.4).

Refer to page 4 for your information regarding your Mathematics and English placements and page 5 for your first year academic roadmap.

I took courses at a local community college. What should I register for in fall 2022? And when will my Titan Degree Audit (TDA) be updated to show this community college coursework?
Please make sure all official transcripts from every community college attended are submitted to CSUF's Office of Admissions for your TDA to be updated. To request your official transcript, visit your community college's website. You can see instructions of where to send an official transcript to CSUF's Office of Admissions.

When registering for fall 2022, avoid registering for any courses that sound familiar to your community college coursework.

I haven't completed the ALEKS modules yet. What Math should I register for?
If applicable, Business Administration and Economics majors should complete the ALEKS modules. International Business majors are not required to complete the ALEKS modules.

You will receive an email to your CSUF student email from the Business Advising Center prior to your registration date. In that email, you will be informed of how to find your English (GE Area A.2) and Mathematics (GE Area B.4) placements and a guideline of what math and English course you should register for in fall 2022. You can expect this email from businessadvising@fullerton.edu.

After you complete the ALEKS module (Business Administration and Economics majors only), you will be notified via email if you need to register for a new Math course for fall 2022. You will then be able to make that change and swap out Math courses if necessary.

I took AP courses. What should I register in Fall 2022? And when will my Titan Degree Audit (TDA) be updated to show my AP scores?
Advanced Placement (AP) credit, with specific scores, can be used to satisfy general education requirements. If you have taken any AP or IB exams, make sure you have submitted your AP scores electronically from www.collegeboard.org to CSUF Office of Admissions in order for your Titan Degree Audit (TDA) to be updated.

You may refer to page 9 for more information regarding AP coursework. If you know your scores, refer to the chart provided to see which area(s) of General Education they will fulfill and avoid registering for any requirements that will already be completed.

Are all courses for Fall 22 at CSUF going to be delivered on-campus? Will there be any virtual options available in Fall 2022?
The majority of courses this Fall 2022 semester are going to be delivered on-campus. However, there will also be some online and hybrid course options in Fall 2022 as well.

Each instructor and department will decide how their courses will be delivered. So, when searching for courses, make sure to pay attention to the "Days and Times" and "Room" portions of the course section you are considering so you may plan accordingly. Some more details on course delivery are listed below:

In-Person Courses: The courses will list a physical campus location under "Room". This means students will have all class meetings on campus.

Synchronous Courses: These courses will only meet online during the specified times under "Days & Times". This means students will need to attend Zoom class meetings each week.

Asynchronous Courses: These courses do not require you to be present at a specific time. This means students will only access course materials and assignments through Canvas and follow the instructor's syllabus. Some asynchronous courses may require in-person meetings or exams. Be sure to read the course schedule carefully.

Hybrid Courses: These courses will list "WEB Hybrid Instruction" and a physical campus location under "Room". This means students will have a combination of in-person and online activities.

If you have any additional questions regarding how a course will be delivered after reading the course section details, we recommend for you to reach out to the instructor directly. Their information will be listed in the course details.

When do I pay for my courses after I register for Fall 2022?
You may refer to the Student Business Services website for important payment dates and deadlines for Fall 2022.

The one-year roadmaps on page 5 to 8 are really helpful. Do you have roadmaps available beyond the first year?
Yes. If you would like to plan ahead, you can find requirement sheets and roadmaps for each concentration option on our major. You can find these on our website. Click on "Major Requirements and Roadmaps" and then your major of choice. You will then select the requirement sheet and roadmap for your Fall 2022 catalog year and intended concentration. The Economics major does not have concentration options.

I am currently a business student, but I want to change my major. How can I do that?
To change your major, you will need to reach out to your desired major's advising staff who will guide you through the process. Until you can connect with them, we would recommend for you to register for your Fall 2022 semester based on the roadmap and directions in this packet. Your new department advising staff can then make any suggested changes.

I have questions about my Fall 2022 schedule after reading this packet, when will someone be able to answer my questions?
During your Orientation, your schedule will be reviewed by a business advisor and you can make any suggested changes at that time.
